

Gini's Non-Alcoholic Ginger Beer Syrups

What is Gini's Ginger Beer Syrup?

Gini's Ginger Beer Syrup is a concentrated, naturally fermented, non-alcoholic ginger drink. It's made from fresh ginger root, pure cane sugar (which is necessary both to feed the natural fermentation and to provide a mild, natural sweetness), and lemon juice, with optional added fruit flavors. Think of it as a craft ingredient that lets you create your own spicy, zesty, naturally fizzy ginger beer at home—no artificial ingredients, just bold, real flavors developed through fermentation.

We have the following variety of Ginger Beer Syrups:

- Summer Fresh Ginger Beer Syrup
- Lime Fusion Ginger Beer Syrup

How do I use it?

Gini's ginger beer syrup is super versatile! Mix 1 part syrup with 3 parts bubbly—like club soda, seltzer, or sparkling water—for a classic, refreshing ginger beer. Adjust the ratio to make it stronger or lighter based on your taste. It's also an excellent mixer for both alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks, adding a lively ginger kick that will impress your friends. Note: please shake well before use, as natural ginger solids can settle over time.

Gini's Chai Spice Syrup is expertly crafted from slow-roasted ginger, cinnamon, black pepper, and cloves, perfectly blended to deliver a genuine chai experience in every sip. Simply add 1 fl. oz. (2 tbsp) of the syrup to a cup of tea, coffee, red wine, hot toddy, or your beverage of choice for an aromatic spiced flavor that is warming, rich, and deeply satisfying.

Do I need to refrigerate it?

Gini's products contain NO preservatives. Refrigerate immediately upon receipt, to keep it fresh and flavorful

How long does it last?

Each bottle makes about half a gallon of ginger beer or 12–15 cocktails, perfect for parties or everyday enjoyment. Check the Best Use By Date printed in the lower right corner of each bottle's label. Bottles typically remain fresh for 2 to 3 months from receipt.
